

HERO IN YOUR EYES

Ted Schempp

1 Samuel 18:20

VERSE: I don't need to climb the highest mountain
Don't have to swim the deepest seas
I don't have to conquer foreign legions
Or be a millionaire with all the grief
All that really matters, is that I'll fight for you
To win your heart will be my greatest prize
'Cause all I really want to capture
Is the look that says, "I'm a hero in your eyes"

VERSE: I may never be the bravest soldier
The one with all the medals on his chest
Others may outshine me on the battlefield
But when, I close my eyes to rest
I wanna know that I've been faithful
To your love, that fills me up inside
When the war is won, and my journey done
I want to be the hero in your eyes

BRIDGE: What does it matter if I gain the world
And lose my soul along the way?
Too many fools have crashed and burned before
I want your arms to be my open door.....

VERSE: So, my love, please keep a candle burning
In your window, even through the darkest night
I pray the Lord, will bring me back home to you
I'll press the crowd, just to catch your eye
A thousand lonely nights will have been worth it
Your heart has always been my greatest prize
For nothing in this world could be more precious
Than to be, the hero in your eyes.....
Nothing in this world could be more precious
Than to be, the hero in your.....eyes.....
